PREPARING EXCELLENT
APPLICATIONS
APPLICATION AS LEARNING OPPORTUNITY

• Adjudication is what we do in science, parallel to peer review for publications, etc.
• Process designed to ensure fairness/consistency
• Selection of excellence from pool of eligible applicants
• Large pool of applicants, small number of recipients
INTERDISCIPLINARY/INTERCULTURAL

Expectations of excellence vary across disciplines
• Provide that context in applications
  E.g. conference invitations/proceedings vs journal publications

Expectations of excellence vary internationally
• Some markers of excellence do not translate well
  E.g. competition for entry into institutions, positions with public service

Language around excellence varies
• Excellence is described very differently, offer examples/metrics and encourage reference writers to do so
  E.g. US enthusiasm vs German and Japanese reticence
SELECTION CRITERIA

• Academic Excellence
• Research Ability / Potential
• Communication, interpersonal and leadership abilities
• Weightings vary by competition
FOLLOW GUIDELINES/SELECTION CRITERIA

• Instructions are carefully and deliberately worded
• If there is something you disagree with in instructions, ask questions, but follow guidelines
• If guidelines specify criteria, speak to all of these criteria in your application
PREPARING APPLICATIONS

• Think/plan ahead
• Work backward from deadlines to include
  • Time for references (if needed)
  • Feedback from peers
  • Considered revisions
• Share your drafts/ask for others’ applications
• Seek out feedback beyond your immediate specialization
• Does your application generate enthusiasm?
SPECIFIC ELEMENTS: PROPOSED RESEARCH

• Must be easy to read, including in its use of technical, (sub)discipline-specific terminology
• Clear discussion of objectives of research/hypotheses
• Highlights contributions to be made
• Must be do-able in terms of methods, time, other resources
• Detailed proposals beat out vague plans
• Will readers share your excitement about your research?
THINK ABOUT FORMATTING

Application forms specify formatting parameters, but
• Use (sub)headers to structure text
• Think about reminders to adjudicators when they review an application
• Consider some bold or italics to highlight aspects
• Be obvious by mirroring application instructions: If criterion is “Research”, why not have a subheader, “Research: [insert your topic here]”?
SPECIFIC ELEMENTS: CV

• Think about narrative (selection of research topic, events/breaks in progress)
• Not all entries are automatically meaningful to all audiences
  Kinds of publications, rates of productivity, positions, incl academic positions, etc
• Define and highlight your personal contributions, esp in collaborations
  “I designed the experiment…”
  “While we designed the study jointly, I focused on identifying the research site…”
SPECIFIC ELEMENTS: REFERENCES

• Plan ahead
• Developing a “stable” of references vs not overburdening referees
• Be strategic in selection
• Give (gentle) instructions, including elements to highlight, address, etc.
• Do legwork for referees and provide them with complete information/drafts of application
OTHER CRITERIA

• What are selection criteria? Speak to them!
• Always be specific, give examples
• Let referees know about non-standard criteria
• Clarify role
  In organizing grad conference, did you set the agenda, select papers, or handle logistics?
  As a volunteer, what exactly did you do?
  If dissemination of results will rely on “a website” how will you find audience/audience find you?
