Adding yourself to the waitlist for an individual course section

About waitlists

- A waitlist may be set up when a course section is full. If you try to register in a course that is full and has a waitlist, you will be added to the waitlist until a seat becomes available for you to register.
- Adding yourself to a waitlist does not guarantee that you will be able to register in the course. You will only be able to register in the course if you receive an invitation to register once a seat opens.
- You can add yourself to as many waitlists as you want.

4. You will be taken to a page titled “Register for Course Section”. Select a section for each required activity. Be sure to check the “Section Status” column of each activity. Some required activities may have space while others are full, with a waitlist.
5. Follow the steps for the scenario that best matches your situation:
 - The course has only one required course activity, which has a waitlist.

Example Scenario 3: The course has one required course activity with a waitlist and another course activity that has seats available.

If your selected course has one required course activity with a waitlist and another course activity that has seats available, you will be added to the waitlist for the unavailable course activity. To register in the course fully, you must receive an invitation to enroll in the unavailable course activity, even if other required courses activities have seats available.

For example, there may be an open seat in the lecture section for a course, but the required lab section is full. You won't be able to register for the lecture until a seat for the lab section becomes available for you.
