FINANCIAL SUPPORT

The Allard School of Law has a substantial scholarship program for the LLM and PhD programs and limited bursary support for the LLM CL and LLM in Taxation. Additional annual support for conference and research travel is available in the research based programs.

RESEARCH STRENGTHS & FACILITIES

The Allard School of Law is home to some of Canada's top legal scholars and professors and has a long history of outstanding graduate legal education. The law school has particular research strengths in Indigenous and Aboriginal Law, Asian legal studies, business law, environmental and natural resource law, feminist legal studies, and human rights. Our graduate students pursue doctrinal and interdisciplinary legal scholarship both in Canadian and international spheres.

In 2011, the law school moved into Allard Hall, a beautiful, light-filled, four-story building with dedicated social and work spaces for graduate students. The 141,000 square foot building also houses a three-story library, which contains research materials from all of the major common law jurisdictions, civil law materials from Quebec (in English and French), comparative and international law materials, and comprehensive access to electronic databases.

The Peter A. Allard School of Law is committed to excellence in legal education and research.

We offer an inspiring environment that combines rigorous professional legal education with an awareness of the role of law in society and a commitment to the rule of law and access to justice. The Allard School of Law is situated on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territory of the xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam) in one of the most open, diverse and beautiful places in the world.

GEOFF CHEN, CPA, CA,
LLM TAX

"The Allard Graduate Program provided us with stimulating and inspiring lectures and projects that pushed us further in developing in-depth knowledge of tax law. I would recommend it to anyone needing to advance their experience and skills in Canadian and international tax law."

"The LLM and PhD programs have supported my passion for climate justice in many different and important ways. The advice and encouragement of my amazing supervisors has been instrumental to my academic growth. My peers have also helped me thrive, providing feedback, mentorship, and friendship."
