Summary

The University of British Columbia offers multi-year fellowships to Master’s and doctoral Aboriginal students. Award winners are selected on the basis of academic merit through an annual competition, administered by the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies in consultation with the First Nations House of Learning. Approximately a dozen new fellowships are offered each year.

Each fellowship provides a stipend of $18,200 per year for doctoral students or a stipend of $16,175 for Master’s students. Additionally, AGF recipients are eligible to receive tuition funding. Tuition funding will not exceed the current value of the standard doctoral or Master's degree tuition fees. Applicants for Master’s funding will receive fellowship funding until the end of their second year of Master’s studies; applicants for doctoral funding will receive fellowship funding until the end of their fourth year of doctoral studies; in all cases, continued fellowship support is conditional on satisfactory academic progress. Recipients of Master’s fellowship funding must re-apply to be considered for doctoral funding.

Applicants must check with their graduate program regarding their program's internal application deadline. Internal application deadlines are normally several weeks before the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies deadline of 4:00 p.m. on Friday, February 10, 2017.

Eligibility Criteria

• All Aboriginal students are eligible to apply, but priority is given to Aboriginal students whose traditional territory falls, at least in part, within Canada. This includes Canadian First Nations, Métis or Inuit students and may include Aboriginal students from Alaska and the northern states of the USA. The University may request further information to confirm Aboriginal eligibility.

• Applicants may or may not be UBC graduate students at the time of application – the competition is open to both incoming and continuing graduate students. However, awardees must be enrolled as full-time graduate students at the UBC-Vancouver campus for the 2017-2018 academic year in order to receive an Aboriginal Graduate Fellowship through this competition. Students in the following programs are not eligible: MEng, MM, MBA, and PharmD.
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ABORIGINAL GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION
2017-2018 COMPETITION

- To be eligible to receive Aboriginal Graduate Fellowship funding, students are required to limit their number of hours of paid employment to an average of 12 hours per week during the funding period (exceptions may be requested).
- As research potential or ability is one of the primary selection criteria, AGF recipients are to maintain registration in graduate programs that include a significant research component (e.g., thesis or major research project). Recipients who plan to transfer to a graduate program that does not include a significant research component should first consult with the Graduate Awards team.
- Months of Study
  - To be eligible to hold AGF funding as a Master’s student, applicants must have completed, as of December 31, 2016, no more than 12 months of full-time (or full-time equivalent) Master’s-level study (at UBC and/or elsewhere)
  - To be eligible to hold AGF funding as a doctoral student, applicants must have completed, as of December 31, 2016, no more than 36 months of full-time (or full-time equivalent) doctoral-level study (at UBC and/or elsewhere)
  - Please note that:
    - all previous studies at the graduate level, regardless of institution and discipline, will be included in determining eligibility
    - successful applicants for Master's-level funding (first point immediately above) will not receive funding past the end of their 24th month of Master's-level study
    - successful applicants for doctoral-level (second point immediately above) will not receive funding past the end of their 48th month of doctoral-level study

Evaluation Criteria

Attachments materials must be submitted to your graduate program. Please ensure your attachments are presented according to these specifications:

- Text must be single-spaced, with no more than six lines per inch.
- Pages must be 8 ½” x 11” (216mm x 279mm);
- All text should be black, and no colour images should be used;
- The acceptable font is Times New Roman (regular, minimum 12-pt.) or any comparable serif font.

- For multipage attachments, number the pages sequentially.
- The maximum number of pages permitted is indicated in each section of the application. Pages in excess of the number permitted will be removed.
- If you have supporting documents written in a language other than English or French, you must provide a translation of the document in English or French.

- The maximum number of pages allowed is indicated below. Pages in excess of the number permitted will be removed. Do not refer readers to websites for additional information.
- Any extraneous materials (materials not requested in the instructions below) will be removed if submitted.

Outline of Proposed Research

Maximum two pages, as follows:

- maximum of one page can be used for the outline of proposed research; and
- maximum of one page can be used for citations.

Provide a detailed description of your proposed research project for the period during which you will hold the award. Be as specific as possible. Provide background information to position your proposed research within the context of the current knowledge in the field. State the objectives and hypothesis, and outline the experimental or theoretical approach to be taken (citing literature pertinent to the proposal), and the methods and procedures to be used.
If you have not yet decided on a specific project, you must still provide a detailed description of a research project that interests you. You are not bound by this project. You may change your research direction or activities during the course of the award.

In addition:

- The Citations page is where you will list works that are cited in your proposal; it is not a bibliography for your research topic.
- Applicants are expected to write their own research project independently. Ideas and/or text belonging to others are to be properly referenced.
- Include all relevant information in the outline. Do not refer reviewers to URLs or other publications for supplemental information.
- In the Outline of Proposed Research, provide the requested information according to the guidelines and format standards outlined in the General Presentation section above.

Transcripts

- All applicants must submit transcripts for all university-level studies (including studies undertaken but not completed) up to December 31, 2016.
- For institutions other than UBC, only official transcripts will be accepted. These may be original or certified true copies provided by the applicant's graduate program. Please note that students must request certified true copies of transcripts from their graduate program, not from the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies.
- For UBC, the applicant's "Academic History" printed from the SISC by the applicant's graduate program will be accepted.
- Translations of transcripts in any languages other than French and English must be included.
- It remains the applicant's responsibility to ensure that all required transcripts have been provided to his or her graduate program by the graduate program's internal AGF deadline.

Canadian Common CV

Applicants are required to complete the CCV from the Canadian Common CV Web site (https://ccv-cvc.ca/indexresearcher-eng.frm) as part of their Aboriginal Graduate Fellowship application. Refer to the Canadian Common CV – How to Complete the Canada Graduate Scholarships-Master's Version (http://www.nserc-crsng.gc.ca/Students-Etudiants/CCV_CGSM-CVC_BESCM_eng.asp) for details. Applicants to the Aboriginal Graduate Fellowship competition must complete the CGS-Master’s template of the CCV.

* Rather than attaching a copy of your CCV to a CGS-M application (as described in the “How to Complete…” instructions referenced above), Aboriginal Graduate Fellowship applicants are to click “History” in the top menu bar when logged into the CCV website and select the .pdf version of their CGS-Master’s CCV. Applicants should check with their graduate program to confirm whether they should submit their CCV as a hard-copy document or as an electronic file.

The CGS-M CCV template was designed to cover the breadth of applicants. Certain fields of entry in the template may not be applicable to your specific circumstances. In those instances, the sections should be left blank.

In the Leaves of Absence and/or Special Circumstances Impacting on Research section, describe any special considerations that have had an effect on your performance or productivity. Include any considerations that may have resulted in delays in disseminating your research results, such as health problems, family responsibilities, disabilities or other circumstances (for example, the time necessary to complete a monograph, file a patent, or commercialize an industrial process or product). Explain any gaps in the chronology of your experience. The selection committee will take these circumstances into consideration when evaluating your application. If your current supervisor is unable to provide you with a reference letter, you may use this section to provide an explanation.

Reference Forms

Each application must be accompanied by two reference forms. These must be completed by persons capable of making an informed assessment, and they cannot be completed by a proposed supervisor unless that person is, or has been, your supervisor.

One assessment should be from a person very familiar with your research and other abilities, e.g., current academic research supervisor or industrial supervisor (in the case of co-op students), previous academic research or industrial supervisor. The second assessment should be from a person sufficiently familiar with your research and other abilities to provide a meaningful commentary.

Applicants are to provide to their referees the appropriate Aboriginal Graduate Fellowships Reference Form (https://www.grad.ubc.ca/forms/aboriginal-graduate-fellowship-reference-form). The reference letter form is a form-fillable Microsoft Word document, and can be emailed by the applicant to their referees. Applicants should:

- complete the top portion of the reference forms before providing these forms to their referees;
- provide their referees with a copy of their list of research contributions, program of study, and transcripts so that they can be reviewed before the reference forms are completed.

Very Important: Regardless of whether referees submit their reference forms to the applicant or directly to the applicant's graduate program:

- Acceptable:
  - recommendation letters signed by the person providing the reference;
  - original, faxed, and scanned copies sent by email directly to the graduate program
- Not Acceptable:
  - emails and any reference form that is not signed by the referee;
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ABORIGINAL GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION 2017-2018 COMPETITION

• Reference forms are confidential, and the contents of the reference forms are not to be viewed by the applicant.

Final Notes

• Applications submitted to the Aboriginal Graduate Fellowships competition may also be removed from the competition for any of the following reasons:
  o if the application form or free-form pages are hand-written,
  o if a minimum of two reference forms or letters are not submitted with the application,
  o if transcripts from any institutions listed in the academic history section of the application are not submitted with the application,
  o if the free-form pages are not submitted with the application, o if the free-form pages are not formatted correctly (according the formats for font size and margins listed in the application instructions).

• It is the applicant’s responsibility to ensure that all application materials (including transcripts and reference letters) are received before their graduate program's internal AGF deadline.
